

♇ Pluto in ♑ Capricorn

Pluto may have been demoted in its planetary status but not in its astrological significance. Pluto's sojourn into Capricorn began on January 25, 2008. Pluto moves very slowly and will be in the astrological sign of Capricorn over the next 15 years. Pluto will transit through one or two of your astrological houses in your natal birth chart activating the particular themes related to those houses.

Pluto carries a subtle energy. There won't be a lot of drama or sudden surprises but without a doubt there will be significant changes in the areas where Pluto passes. The energetic effects will not be felt immediately. As the Pluto transit goes on, an understanding will grow as to what is changing. The keywords associated with Pluto are regeneration, reform and transformation.

Pluto is a transpersonal planet affecting us all. Pluto is considered the Shamanic Initiator and its energy will bring substantial transformative lasting changes in all areas governed by Capricorn and 10th house themes. The spotlight will be on figures of authority in public life along with business, government, and organizations. The Shamanic process includes a death process and we will observe the restructuring of public institutions. As this begins to occur and we witness the crumbling of our existing structures as we have known them, what is perceived as the status quo changes. Fear and panic can ensue. What is often hidden in the shadows of our public institutions and governments will come to light. The public will hold accountable those in power who do not manage to live and/or govern with integrity. Words are meant to match actions. Wisdom, responsibility and integrity are the higher light energies available in Capricorn.

This is a rebirth time in our society. Let us continue on an individual level to stay true to what we hold as truth and live in integrity. This is what we can do to support the inevitable Pluto principle of death, regeneration and rebirth. Pluto's energy moves through fears and the muck to bring us into a higher form individually as well as helping us evolve collectively. As we witness what happens, we can choose to live in fear or make a choice to be aware and keep transforming our fears. We can consciously participate with the energy of transformation.

Pluto involves surrendering. We can submit to knowing that we have no control over others. We live in mystery at times. How we remain comfortable with the unknown is by trusting the order that unfolds in its own time. Pluto is also called The Transformer. Transforming or rising above primal reactive lower states is our job. The Pluto Capricorn initiation calls us to be dutiful in learning how to stay in our integrity, and to honor our own inner voice no matter what is being said by society. Our task is to stay within the truth of what we know. This is our responsibility. Walk your talk as a being of light with the knowledge you are held in the Light.
